After some 9-5 wardrobe inspo for your last full week at work? (Woohoo!) Then look no further than actress Jamie Chung, who has mastered casual chic. Make like JC and style-boss the office with a checked shirt and grey midi skirt. Add a pair of patent boots (so 60s, so commute friendly) and an eye-popping red leather jacket to bring the festive feels, though you could swap it for a tailored jacket if a smarter look's your thing.
